AFTER DISEASED CATTLE. Inspector F, I. Ingram Looking For Cows Sent From New York to Norwich and New London.

Wednesday Comptroller Daniel P. Dunn received a call from Frank L Ingram, of Hartford, deputy commis sioner on domestic animals. Mr. In-gram received notice that cows were being shipped from Long Island and New York by boat and without permission from the state, Norwich and New London parties receiving the shipments. At New London, Dr. Pen-well, of the board of health assisted Mr. Ingram in his investigation, a number of cows were ordered killed and a post-mortem examination will be made. The deputy commissioner stated he was on his way to another section of the state where cows were reported to be dying in the lots from a contagious disease. Mr. Ingram referred in the highest terms of the efficiency of Dr. Penwell of New London as a public health official.
